

Active Components™

PRODUCT SHEET

HAWORTH®

Active Components is a set of personal product solutions designed to give people variety and choice in storage, organization, and perceived privacy. Its flexibility enables a range of configurations, for both dedicated workstations and mobile worker touchdown spaces. Open and lighter in scale, Active Components creates a comfortable, inviting workplace. To optimize real estate, elements are designed specifically to fit into smaller footprints and put unused space to work.

A choice of functionality

Active Components helps you stay organized and perform well. Recessed surfaces let you move work items off the primary surface. The Suspended Pedestal and Nook create cubbies for work and personal items. A Security Drawer is lockable. USB ports are embedded to easily charge devices.

Maximizing space efficiency

With real estate costs and collaboration on the rise, the individual workspace continues to shrink. Active Components takes an urban planning approach that claims space in nonconventional ways, such as the use of cantilevers and recessed surfaces. A 9-inch platform for suspended elements increases usable space. To optimize the footprint, accessories attach to tool rails.
